Product Description

Product Description:

A non-insulated terminal is an electrical connector used commonly in electrical and electronic equipment, in the automotive industry, and for home appliances. It is constructed of conductive material, such as copper or aluminum, to provide durable and reliable electrical connections.

The various types come in round, flat, U-shaped, and F-shaped sizes and can be attached to wire using bolts, crimps, or welding. Non-insulated terminals offer no insulation, so proper care must be taken to ensure the safety of the connection.
